Meeting New People

September brings the beginning of new classes, activities, clubs, and so forth. The common element in all these new things is people. There are always new people to meet. It's fun meeting new people, but sometimes meeting new people brings on a case of the "what ifs": What if everyone knows everybody but I don't know anybody? What if nobody talks to me? What if others don't like me?

Jesus gave us the best advice about meeting new people and getting along with them. To learn his advice, shade in the squares of this grid like a checkerboard, beginning with the first square. Then beginning at that first square, write each letter in the shaded squares on the lines below. After completing the shaded squares, go to the unshaded squares and continue. When you run out of squares, you'll have Jesus' fail-proof advice on meeting new people and getting along with them.

A	U	L	W	W	O	A
U	Y	L	S	D	T	L
R	I	E	K	A	E	T
T	O	O	T	B	H	E
E	T	R	R	S	E	A

Answer: Always treat others as you would like to be treated (see Matthew 7:12).
